

17 NOVEMBER 1986

SG1J

SESSION SUMMARY

SITE: Venice, Italy

..... this was a strange session, although I perceived a land/water interface, at no time did I perceive structures, city, or civilization..... the overall feeling was one of a quiet, vast expanse of sand with a towering, natural, hard, rough landmark sticking very high into the air.... like that of the formations in Monument Valley, Arizona, or the Devils tower.

This is called "being off line."